

4th Annual Arkansas Conference on Co-Occurring Mental Illness and Developmental Disabilities

TRAUMA-CON

TRAUMA'S IMPACT ON MIND, BODY, AND BEHAVIOR

JUNE 28, 2017

8 AM - 4 PM

HILTON GARDEN INN—WEST LITTLE ROCK

Perfect for anyone working with persons with co-occurring behavioral health challenges and intellectual/developmental disabilities. CEU and CRC information pending.

MEET OUR SUPERHERO LINEUP

Karyn Harvey, Ph.D.

Dr. Harvey is an expert on trauma in persons with intellectual/developmental disabilities. Harvey is the author of Trauma-Informed Behavioral Interventions: What Works and What Doesn't.

A psychologist with over 25 years of experience, Harvey is currently the Assistant Executive Director of Clinical Support at The Arc Baltimore.

Harvey will present two separate sessions concerning trauma and trauma-informed care interventions.

Travis Langley, Ph.D.

Dr. Langley is a Professor of Psychology at Henderson State University in Arkadelphia.

His work frequently deals with the psychology behind society's favorite series, and he has written books on the psychology behind Star Wars, Star Trek, Game of Thrones, and Dr. Who.

Over 100,000 follow him on Twitter, where he ranks among the ten most popular psychologists as @Superherologist.

Langley will address trauma, PTSD, and post-traumatic growth as observed in popular culture.

Leslie Smith, MD

Dr. Leslie Smith is the ArkSTART Medical Director and the Executive Director of the GAIN program, an assertive community treatment program. Dr. Smith also owns a private practice psychiatric clinic in Little Rock.

Drawing from his extensive experience treating individuals that have dual diagnoses, Smith will host discussion on trauma in these populations.

View more information online:
<http://arkSTART.org/conference-2017>

sponsored by

